6AM

Join us to hear from SunCal regarding their development plans for a 15 acre site located at 6th and Alameda Streets. The project titled, 6AM, calls for 1,736 residential units, two hotel towers, shops, creative offices and a school, as well as 23,000 additional square feet for art and two parks. This bold and innovative development will be designed by architectural firm Herzog & de Mueron.

Special Guest: Dan Rosenfeld, Sun Cal

LINKAGE FEE

The City of Los Angeles released a draft ordinance to establish a Linkage Fee on new development. The purpose of the fee is to offset the demand for affordable housing created by new residential and commercial development. The Linkage Fee will be deposited into the City's Affordable Housing Trust Fund. The proposed fee for nonresidential uses including hotels is $5 per square foot (SF) of floor area, excluding common areas. And for residential uses, it is $12 per square foot (SF) of floor area, excluding common areas. The fee is due at the issuance of building permit. CCA has been at the forefront of this policy discussion and encourages members to engage.

Special Guests: Clare Bowin & Matt Glesne, City Planning & Claudia Monterossa, Housing, Community and Investment Department
